

MY ASSASSIN - SYNOPSIS

by Tonya J. Roberts

NAZIRAH, 28, is a master assassin with only one unbreakable rule. She only "does" arms dealers and bottom feeders, which is exactly what her current client, ELADIO REYES CRUZ, 52, told her Danny Stack was.

But Danny was only a cover for COLLIER BLAYLOCK, 42, a CIA operative who got Reyes (an arms dealer himself) thrown into a Mexican prison. Collier also stole half his fortune, then retired to a small caribbean island to play Robin Hood with his money.

Nazirah shows up to kill Collier just as he's leaving to take the children from his orphanage on a trip to Disney World.

Nothing adds up to Nazirah -- what kind of arms dealer runs an orphanage? She and Collier both find themselves victims of love at first sight. Still, Nazirah has a job to do and cannot allow herself to be sentimental about a man she should enjoy killing.

Collier makes Nazirah, but he allows her to lure him away from the children, where she announces she'll "have" him before she kills him -- a plan much to Collier's liking, even though he's clearly no match for her.

Collier's right-hand man, FRANK DAVIS, 46, is another retired CIA Operative and the resident smartass. He shows up just in time to "rescue" Collier from himself.

Nazirah waits for Collier to return to the island, meanwhile, Collier finds out as much as he can about her and returns to the island more prepared for their next encounter.

This time he cheats, using a knock-out dart. Then he incarcerates her.

When she awakes, he gives her the choice. If she still wants to "have" him, she must take a drug to "level the playing field." Otherwise, he will go into hiding and have Frank, release her when he's safe. Nazirah humors him and they make love -- confirming what they both already felt in their hearts.

Meanwhile, Reyes is cleaning house. He kills the judge who presided over his trial, along with various others for their betrayal. He also kidnaps his ex-girlfriend, ANNA, 27, who turned informant in exchange for the CIA's help getting away from Reyes.

Collier's ex-partner, OSCAR VEGA FUENTES, 57, makes a surprise visit to tell Collier there's a contract out on him. Nazirah overhears their conversation, blowing Collier's cover.

After Vega leaves, eight of Reyes' men try to kill Collier. But he has many wily tricks up his sleeve and manages to kill most of them.

One gets the upper hand, but Nazirah breaks out of her cell to save Collier's life instead of taking it -- finally making it clear, she can be trusted.

Frank returns to tell Collier, Reyes' men kidnapped Anna.

Collier, Frank, and Nazirah race to intercept the car carrying Anna, but they intercept the wrong car and free the prosecutor from Reyes' trial instead.

The team heads to one of Reyes' houses in Mexico, where the thugs have taken Anna so Reyes can kill her with his own two hands -- and kitchen appliances.

The house is heavily guarded, but Collier works out a plan involving crystal balls, huge rubber bands, and magic tricks.

They rescue Anna and capture Reyes, but it's clear he'll just get a slap on the wrist again, so Nazirah slits his throat -- as a gift to Collier.

Just then, Vega shows up and takes a prized flash drive off Reyes' body -- his contact list, which will help the CIA prevent many terrorist attacks.

Then Nazirah announces -- to Collier's delight -- that she's his girlfriend.